March 16 (Bloomberg) -- Democrats in the New York state Senate challenged Attorney General Eric Schneiderman to explain why he hasn't prosecuted four Wall Street executives accused of rigging the market for their own benefit. Schneiderman is under fire because of an investigation, reported by The New York Times, that he is pursuing into an alleged conspiracy among the biggest banks to rig benchmark interest-rate futures. Schneiderman has said he has evidence that robo-signing was used to foreclose on more than 4,000 Americans with little to no evidence against them, including a Schneiderman campaign press release. He declined to identify the offending law firm. "It is stunning and unheard of that the New York attorney general could decline to file criminal charges based on an investigation that is ongoing," six Democratic state senators, including Senator Andrew Moryan of the Bronx, said in a letter to Schneiderman dated March 10. "Until Attorney General Schneiderman explains what he is aware of and if there is a decision not to prosecute, we urge him to act immediately."

NY AG subpoenas banks, lawyers in case New York state Attorney General Eric Schneiderman has issued subpoenas for documents and information from eight financial institutions to better understand a multiyear investigation into market manipulation and robo-signing, according to an April 12 letter to the banks and a person familiar with the inquiry. Robo-signing refers to the practice in which banks, frequently in the early stages of foreclosures, signed off on the fraudulent issuance of foreclosure papers without reviewing the necessary documentation to support the charges. LALLAMADADECHTULHUEDICIONPRIMIGENIAPDF36 kd?? i don't know what's that. man,, i made a quick google search..its just a recording from space...? can i use this? LALLAMADADECHTULHUEDICIONPRIMIGENIAPDF36 LALLAMADADECHTULHUEDICIONPRIMIGENIAPDF36 LALLAMADADECHTULHUEDICIONPRIMIGENIAPDF36 man this guy is crazy..., after playing a few matches of k3 i restarted the pc and all 5 of them had the same hole, no shot selection or any of that, just an automated defence that was too difficult to beat, the splitscreen with all the other classes was a total mess, flying seagulls had an invisible heal that could hit at very high speed, at this point I disconnected the game, removed the mods, and started a new game with the default settings. So far today I have already played 5 to 7 matches and saw every mod on ALL of those matches. it just never stops. I love the sound, I love the music. I love the graphics but the gameplay is just HORRIBLE, and people say it's balanced? I don't think so, playing and winning against AI with base classes is laughable. at first it was fun to try out the 'class customisation' and see how each different class would play. I like it, very customizable, you could make a good or bad custom class depending on your skills. As the season went on however this was not fun, I realised this was because every class had more or less the same base class, at this point I stopped customizing because I realised I would waste more time than I would be worth. After playing 5 matches today I'm now 100% sure that K3 is actually a massive disaster. Every single mod has to be removed and the default classes should just be put back on, the mods are buggy and really weak compared to the quality of this game. I'm now looking for alternatives and will see how the other FPS titles do in the upcoming year, I'm 3e33713323
