Www.healthysuperfood.org.uk - All forms of human injury and disease are caused by mechanical injury to the body, including trauma to the joints and muscles. Types of Injuries. Describe the major types of injury encountered in clinical practice.

Discuss their aetiology and common clinical manifestation. Describe the various treatment options available. List the risk factors in a wound to predict the outcome. Candida Infections:

Allergic and Infectious. Sepsis or systemic infection can be caused by several germs, including bacteria and viruses, and fungi. Sepsis is a complex condition characterized by systemic dysfunction of the body's tissues and organs following infection or septicemia (injection of certain germs into the bloodstream from other tissues). Antibiotics kills off both the bad germs as well as the good germs in your body and in all likelihood can have both good and bad effects on your health. Your immune system helps to kick-start the healing process. When you have an infection you usually get better with antibiotics, but for a variety of reasons, a little germs that are still floating around will carry out their plan and start growing back and can make a comeback. Treating an infected sore in the mouth is similar to treating an infected wound. A. The sores are rarely painful; the most discomforting part may be an itchy dry area over the gum line. B. There may be a foul odor associated with a dry sore. C. Tissues may feel tender and tight. D. The sore needs time to heal. E. Antibiotics, mostly anaerobic, have given good relief. F. You need to be careful of getting too much salt because it can make the sores worse. G. Do not chew on the sore. H. Don't use toothpaste, toothbrushes or rinses. I. Try to eat a balanced diet and drink plenty of water. K. Keep a check on your diet. Learn to tell when certain foods upset you. Avoid these foods. L. Avoid soft drinks. M. Avoid sweets. N. Avoid alcohol. O. Avoid pregnancy until your sore heals. P. When you do blow your nose or cough, put tissues in your pocket or in the garbage. This is to prevent spreading the infection. Q. Are you prone to frequent sore throats? A. If so, you may be at risk for a strept
